Dear Brethren,

This is to recommend to you John Orr and his new ministry, Home Missions.

I have known John for several years and have found him to be Biblically sound, ethically above reproach and very evangelistically fruitful.

John knows how to make disciples that make other disciples. Our brother has sent a number of his converts and disciples to study at SIBI. They were very evangelistic when they came to us and have continued to grow in that quality following graduation.

I have no doubt that John is more than capable to help local congregations here in our country to grow through evangelistic outreach and healthy church relationship practices.

Those who partner with John Orr and Home Missions will be blessed.

In Christ
