"Seeking the Lost"

July 22, 2019

Our congregation recently participated in a church growth workshop conducted by John Orr of HomeMission.

The four-day agenda was full of different topics and action items to motivate us towards a better future for the Lord's Church in Columbus. John's presentations were well prepared and delivered in a positive and humorous way. He has great people skills. All the materials he handed out were excellent. Susie provided great technical support in all their efforts.

We started using his Foundations for Disciples handout, one on one, with a new Christian and in our Wednesday night study class. John also handed out his fictional book titled "I Died Last Night". It's a very intense and thought-provoking book.

John and Susie were a great encouragement to us. We look forward to working with them again in the future and highly recommend them to your congregation.

May our Lord continue to bless their ministry by helping small congregations grow.
